Our friends and readers are proving very considerate during our "moving troubles." The proper installation of printing presses and machinery after they have been moved is just about as big a job as that of moving them from one place to another. We are gradually getting things in shape, however, and within another week or so hope to have the paper out on time regularly, and a large quantity of real news in it than has distinguished its columns during the past week. Thank you.

ELECTION NOTES

Tom Cromwell, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, lost his reputation as a political forecaster. He predicted Carroll for Governor by 7,000 majority. This is said to be the first time his forecast has ever failed.

Judge John D. Carroll is still Chief Justice of the State of Kentucky and he came out of the primary election without a blot or stain upon his ermine.

For the first time the Democratic party has honored the mountains of Kentucky by nominating chosen son for Governor and he stands better with the mountain people than does his opponent, Ed Morrow.

Judges don't run very well for political offices, Judge Carroll and Judge Hardin are both illustration of this fact.

Looks like it may take the official count to decide a number of the contests for the minor offices. Col. Oldham's friends say that he still has a chance to win the lieutenant governorship, while Eubank thinks he has a chance too, to get the superintendency of public instruction.

If Judge Hardin had adopted the suggestion The News made to him not to accept the Chairmanship of the party Committee he would have been elected to Congress. The News took the position that a Judge ought not to be Chairman of a political organization.—Elizabethtown News.

Faces A Serious Charge

Upon complaint of W. M. Stone, a farmer, living near Red House, a warrant was issued in the Madison Quarterly Court against Gardner Jones, a resident of Clark county, charging him with contributing to the delinquency of Stone's fourteen-year-old daughter, Maggie. It is charged that Jones went to a school house in this county, where the child was attending school, and took her to his home in Clark county, and is holding her there against the consent of her father.

Dr. Green's Good Meeting

Rev. Edward Lawson, of Pendleton county, who is pastor of the Baptist church, where Dr. O. Olin Green is conducting revival services, paid the Register office a pleasant call Monday. He says the meeting is increasing in attendance and interested, and they greatly enjoy the powerful sermons preached by Dr. Green and the members considered they are very fortunate to be able to secure his services.

Big Wheat Crop Predicted

Washington, August 6.—In making public a statement today regarding the world wheat situation, Julius Barnes, head of the United States Grain Corporation, said that 1,000,000,000 bushels was assured.

He announced definitely that as far as he could see there was no hope for a price reduction in the near future, and that he would not sell wheat at a price below the guarantee.

Figures were given by Mr. Barnes

on the world price as follows:

Average farm price to American farmers under guarantee, $2.05 a bushel.

Average farm price in the United Kingdom during the last calendar year $2.28.

Averaging farm price for four big producing countries—United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia—producing 1,500,000,000 bushels, $1.95.

Average growers price (largely guaranteed) of Europe's 15 consuming countries, producing 800,000,000 bushels, $3.75.

Average of all wheat growers weighted according to the size of their contribution to the total crop of the world, works out an average world-grower price of $2.46.

Argentina wheat, with longer voyage and higher freight rates, Mr. Barnes said, costs, delivered in Europe, fully 50 cents more than American wheat delivered in Europe.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, sometimes I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia. I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. PEARL MONYHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Telephone Conditions

While the property has been properly maintained, it is not the same property which the government took over on August 1, 1918. It is not as adequate for its job or as well manned as it was. That it is not, is no way the fault of Federal control, which was eminently fair. It is due to causes for which neither the government nor the companies are to blame.

A year ago today we were at war. Labor and materials needed for both telephone operation and construction were turned to military uses. Some materials were so vital to the carrying on of the war that even the work of providing telephone facilities for the government was retarded and no part of them could be spared for commercial telephone purposes.

No less vital was the government need for those skilled to create, maintain and operate the vast intercommunication systems necessary in modern warfare and in the conduct of the vastly increased government services.

Thousands of telephone men were already at the battlefield. Thousands more were under arms, and still telephone experts and skilled operators went into the service of the government and contributory industries by the tens of thousands.

The reserves of plant and equipment were drawn upon until they were entirely used up, and the experienced staff was gradually depleted. To find others to take the places of those who had gone was difficult. To train them takes time.

During the year came the victory and the armistice; and instantly the business world sprang into intense activity. The demands for telephone service passed all former records.

To replace the exhausted reserves which had been carried for just such purposes and to replace the skilled forces to meet this unprecedented emergency, there began a rush for construction, for readjustment, for high pressure repairs, for feverish extensions. All these must be continued with increasing effort.

The return of the property comes in the very midst of this race between an overpowering demand, and an upbuilding of a system whose growth was held back and whose forces were scattered by the vital needs of war.

Much progress has been made in the upbuilding of this system, but far more is still required to meet the swift growth of business; and also to give "first aid" to every business and every other service struggling against an unprecedented demand.

The prosperity which creates this emergency in service creates also a scarcity of those desiring employment in the service.

Under such conditions telephone service generally has not been and could not be up to the pre-war standard. It is beyond human power to immediately overcome the handicap which the situation imposes.

There are no people in any public or private endeavor who are working more tirelessly or strenuously for the common good than those of the telephone companies. Service has always been given; more of it must be given, and it must be improved. That improvement in some cases takes months. Eventually service must win the race with demand.

Perfect Health Is Yours If the Blood Is Kept Pure

Almost Every Human Ailment
Is Directly Traceable to Impurities in the Blood.

You should pay particular heed to any indication that your blood supply is becoming sluggish, or that there is a lessening in its strength and vital force. By keeping your blood purified, your system more easily wards off disease that is ever present, waiting to attack wherever there is an opening. A few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood medicine, will revitalize your blood and give you new strength and a healthy, vigorous vitality. Everyone needs it just now to keep the system in perfect condition. Go to your drug store and get a bottle to-day, and if you need any medical advice, you can obtain it without cost by writing to Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 46 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

GREAT MAJESTIC SHOWING ALL NEXT WEEK BEGINNING AUGUST 11th

The Majestic Man is coming. Our floors will be filled with these finest stoves on earth, and each day a BEAUTIFUL $12.50 set of COOKING WARE will be given away free of charge with each Majestic that goes out of our store, during the week.

The merit of the Majestic was again proven this past year when the government of the United States contracted for 400 car loads of the Majestic Ranges.

The body of the Majestic Range is of charcoal iron, which by actual test, resists rust, heat and crystallization 300 per cent greater than steel. The Majestic oven is made of heavy material, is riveted, (not bolted) to a malleable L or angle iron frame, making it practically air tight.

Don't economize too closely on the purchase price of a Range. Economy is not merely spending the least money; buying a range at too low a price is indeed false economy.

Above all—thoroughly examine the range you buy. A range bought from a printed description may be "exactly as represented," and yet not what you thought—you may be "getting your money's worth" and yet make a bad investment.

Come to our store next week and let the factory representative, who knows the MAJESTIC from a to z show you the many good qualities, and prove to you the advantage and saving in the long run of these King of all Stoves.
